PHYSICIAN AND OTHER HEALTHCARE PROVIDER DISCLAIMER

Physicians and other healthcare providers who participate in your care may be private practitioners and independent contractors and thus may not be employees or agents of Salus Medical Solutions Ltd. Examples of such health care providers may include, but are not limited to, surgeons, consultants, radiologists, anesthesia providers, pathologists, obstetricians, physician assistants (PAs) and advanced practice registered nurses.

While all healthcare providers must meet certain education, training and experience requirements to practice through Salus Medical Solutions Ltd, the institute is not responsible for the specific care provided to you by any non-employees.

PRIVACY

This Notice also applies to the staff of Salus Medical Solutions Ltd and our Medical and Clinical Providers who have agreed to participate in the Organized Health Care Arrangement and to abide by the terms of the Notice with respect to the services they provide within or on behalf of the entities listed above. Members of the medical staff, including your chosen surgeon, may have different privacy policies or practices relating to their use or disclosure of protected health information created or maintained in their clinic or office. The persons and facilities listed above may share your medical information as necessary to coordinate your care, to carry out treatment, payment or health care operations and for other purposes described in this notice. Salus Medical Solutions and its staff are independent contractors and are acting as an Organized Health Care Arrangement only for purposes of complying with the laws governing the privacy of your medical information. The existence of the Organized Health Care Arrangement does not create a partnership, joint venture or agency relationship between or among Salus Medical Solutions Ltd and its Medical and Clinical Providers.
